How would you describe the journey you are on right now?

Can you see something God wants you to learn or how God has turned your journey into something good?

Read the book of Esther. If you don't have time for the whole book, read Esther 4:13-14:

<sup>13</sup> Do not think that because you are in the king's house you alone of all the Jews will escape.

<sup>14</sup> For if you remain silent at this time, relief and deliverance for the Jews will arise from another place, but you and your father's family will perish. And who knows but that you have come to your royal position for such a time as this?

Esther 4:13-14 (NIV)

Have you experienced an Esther moment in your life? How did you know what God wanted you to do? What was the consequence?

What are some Mordecai moments you've experienced in your life and how have they affected...

You:

Other people:

We can love other people when we listen to, respect, serve, and pray for them. Which one is the easiest/hardest for you to do? Which one have you learned the most by doing?

We go on journeys in our lives for different reasons:

We want adventure.

We want change.

We want to better ourselves.

We want to better the lives of someone else.

If I run from my problems, physically or emotionally, then I don't have to deal with them. Or we could lean into the journey and learn something.

<sup>13</sup> Do not think that because you are in the king's house you alone of all the Jews will escape.

<sup>14</sup> For if you remain silent at this time, relief and deliverance for the Jews will arise from another place, but you and your father's family will perish. And who knows but that you have come to your royal position for such a time as this?

Esther 4:13-14 (NIV)

How do you love people:

Listen to people.

Respect people.

Serve people.

Pray for people.

What does your Mordecai moment look like?
