

Looking at how you walk

Ephesians 5:15-21 // October 10th, 2021

DISCUSSION QUESTION

Did anything stand out from the text or sermon?

There's a difference between wisdom and knowledge, yet God calls us to be wise. In your own words, what's the difference between wisdom and knowledge?

No one is perfectly wise, so we need other believers and a community to help us apply what we know to our lives. How has a community of Christians helped you pursue wisdom?

Evidence of a spirit filled life is being formed by God's word. What're some of the most helpful Scriptures in your life that have helped you pursue Christ-like character?

We talked about mutual submission in the Body of Christ, an attitude of "you before me" rather than me before you. The christian has a call to look not only to our own interests but the interests of others. Are there any examples you've seen of that type of submission?

How does that attitude reflect the character of Jesus? Read Philippians 2:2-8 and make observations as a group of how Jesus submitted to the fathers will and served us.

Take time to pray for one another.
