

Ps Louis Els shared a significant word this Sunday, which was titled “Have faith in God”.

Mark 11:20

In the morning as they passed by, they saw the fig tree withered away to its roots. Then Peter remembered and said to him, “Rabbi, look! The fig tree that you cursed has withered.” Jesus answered them, “Have faith in God.”

God is saying for the season you are in you are going to have to trust Him to release a new level of faith in you.

We need to have faith in God, not a casual faith but the kind of faith that will stand firm and not change our attitude when things happen. Do we believe?

What is faith:

A deep conviction and persuasion, is to trust God, its confidence in God's ability and power, its reliance on God, and it is knowledge, insight, and relevance of who he is.

Faith is not positivity, it's not a stirring up of good emotions, not mind over matter, it's not mere possessing of knowledge and it's not putting pressure on God.

It's not even having faith in the outcome or the promise of God but it's about having faith in God.

We need to set our faith and trust practically in him because he wants to see you break through for what he's paid the price for already and God doesn't just want to break through in you but also break through through you.

Faith is the evidence of the unseen, it puts our trust and reliance on a living god that never changes and is true to his word. God wants to present himself amongst us.

Please take a moment to meditate on Matt 17:14.

Anything you think is oppressing you can be overcome by faith in God. To have faith in God you have to have a relationship with God. We need to believe in God but I also believe God and believe the word of God.

Reflection:

- Are there situations in your life where you need faith in God? Take some time to refocus and realign and ask God what's his word for your situation.
- Spend time with God, going deeper into his word and the revelation of who he is.
