| Topic          | Wesleyan-Arminian View  | Calvinist View   |
|----------------|---|--|
| Free Will      | Humans have genuine free will, enabled by prevenient grace to choose or reject God | Human will is bound by sin; only those elected by God can respond to grace  |
| Grace          | Grace is resistible —God offers it to all, but people can reject it                | Grace is irresistible —those God chooses will respond and be saved          |
| Atonement      | Universal atonement —Christ died for all people                                    | Limited atonement —Christ died only for the elect                           |
| Election       | Based on God’s foreknowledge of who would freely choose Him                               | Unconditional—God chooses whom to save apart from anything they do                 |
| Perseverance   | Believers must continue in faith; salvation can be lost through willful rejection         | True believers will persevere to the end; if they fall away, they were never saved |
| Assurance      | Conditional—based on ongoing faith and obedience  | Strong—based on God’s unchanging promise and sovereign will                        |
| Sanctification | Emphasizes entire sanctification and holy living as a second work of grace         | Sanctification is progressive and inevitable for the elect                         |
