Psalm 36: Love & Justice

God is perfectly just and perfectly loving (Psalm 36:5-6)

Scripture Reading: Psalm 36

God is perfectly just and perfectly loving

- Why is this good news? Because God will right all wrongs and injustices

- Psalm 36:5-6 show us that God's love and justice are inescapable

God's justice breaks down the anatomy of our sin:

- V. 2 our thoughts

- V. 3 our words

- V. 4 our actions

Justice begins and ends with God and we all stand guilty

God often brings about justice, extends consequences and yet redeems and fights for relationships in love

- Adam and Eve sinned and yet God clothed them

- Cain murdered Abel and yet God protected Cain in his wanderings

^ Gospel truth (Romans 3:23-26)

God is perfectly just and perfectly loving

The motivation for justice is that God loves us so much, he doesn't want us to hate each other! Justice is God's love. I hear these people going around talking about social justice, criminal justice, and it's just all effects of the Gospel. That's the way it enters our society in terms of touching us, but justice is God's love! For God so loved the world that he created humanity. He didn't want us to perish. This way of us cutting up justice has become injustice within our society... John Perkins

The Psalmist wants you to see, imagine and feel the magnitude of the goodness of God

...Justice is knowing this loving and redeeming God who came in the person of Jesus Christ. Salvation is to be saved, to be secure, to go to Heaven. When you've got salvation, you're secure. You're in his hands and no one can pull you out of the father's hands. I feel sin is pulling me all the time, and I think the more you love God, the more conscious of sin you become, so I feel him more and more.

John Perkins

Balance of love and justice

- Row boat

Time of Reflection

- Pray that God would reveal the sin in your life to you

- Repent and retell yourself what Jesus did for you

- Celebrate God's goodness by rereading Psalm 36:5-9 to yourself
