THIS IS THE DAY THE LORD HAS MADE (PSALM 118)

- Psalm 118 is referencing a specific day in history - Palm Sunday
- Through David and other prophets, God tells us in advance about this day with great detail and accuracy.

God is Eternal (Psalm 90:2)

- God is not restricted by time. He dwells outside of time.
- God can see the end from the beginning.
- God challenges the false gods to prove their identity by predicting a future event. (Isaiah 41)
- God tells us that he is able to tell us of future events (Isaiah 46)

Palm Sunday Prophecies

- Psalm 118:25- Save now, please save now- Hosanna
- Isaiah 62:11- He brings his reward with him. (salvation)
- He will be despised and rejected by man- Isaiah 53
- The stone the builders rejected has become the cornerstone- Psalm 118:22
- He will come lowly riding on a donkey- Zechariah 9:9
- The day the Savior comes will be on April 6th, 32 AD- Daniel 9:25

Jesus fulfills the prophecies

- Mark 11:1-10- Eyewitness account of April 6th, 32 AD
- Jesus came with salvation into Jerusalem riding on a donkey
- The crowds shouted Hosanna in the highest
- God fulfilled his promise on this special day

We live for Jesus

- Living for Jesus begins with us recognizing our identity in him. Not by good deeds.
- Living for Jesus brings fulfillment and purpose to our lives.
- Living for Jesus means we live selfless lives, always thinking of others before ourselves.
- We do not live for ourselves, we live for the glory of Jesus. (Psalm 115)

Time of Reflection

- How will you live for Jesus this week?
 - Take a moment to thank God for this gift of salvation that we have in our Savior Christ Jesus.
 - Who are you sharing the "Gospel" with?...So they might live through Christ?
