Pastor Pat Finley // Revelation 1-14

Revelation mid-terms

Introduction

This morning we continue our Revelation study, with a pause to review the theme of each chapter. Pay close attention and take good notes. There will be a test in your groups! We also will examine where we are in current events and the book of Revelation, and specifically what is the believer's healthy response to the mid-term elections?

We encourage you to take some time to read through the questions on the following pages and jot down your thoughts before meeting with your group. Many people also find it helpful to use these questions as a guide for taking notes during the sermon. The purpose of these questions is to spark reflection and encourage meaningful conversation. Remember, you don't need to work through every single question each week—focus on the ones that are most helpful for you and your group.

Getting Started

Transition into group discussion.

1) Open group discussion with prayer.

2) Use the cards provided by your leader to play a group game matching the topic with the chapters.

Study Questions (Suggested time: 30-40 min)

1. What is the biggest unanswered question or challenging concept you have about the book of Revelation so far or about end times in general?

   What have you learned that was new information to you?

2. Read Daniel 2:20-21. When unexpected shifts occur in your life—such as changes in leadership, career transitions, or personal circumstances—how do you typically react? What practical steps can you take to trust God's ultimate sovereignty when the world or your personal situation feels uncertain?

Personal Spiritual Exercises

Prayer (Suggested time: 10-15 min)

A meaningful part of "coming together" is being open and genuine about our lives. For some, praying in a group may feel very natural, while for others it may feel new or uncomfortable. If you would prefer not to pray aloud, you're welcome to pray silently and simply say "Amen" when you're finished, signaling the next person to pray. Whether spoken or silent, every prayer is part of this shared time in God's presence.

1. Pray for each other to be bold in witnessing Jesus this week.

2. Take a few moments to think about a prayer request. What are you currently going through that you are still waiting to see how God is going to be glorified? Consider making a prayer request.
