Thicker Than Water

Blood is thicker than water. Our families: We didn't choose them and we have no control over them. Yet, we all have them. So, what can we learn from the authors of Scripture about the way we relate to our families? From the ways we love people to the way we treat our friends; family is tied to our own stories in some unexpected ways. That's why over the next 4-weeks, let's take time to focus on our relationships that are Thicker Than Water.

ENGAGE IN EVERYDAY MOMENTS TOGETHER

Morning Time

As your teen starts their day, point out a way you've seen them show love or kindness to a family member.

Their Time

Ask your teen: "Do you have any questions about the family that you've been wondering?" (Be prepared for whatever they may ask.)

Meal Time

At a meal this week, have everyone answer this question: "What is something you'd like to see us do as a family in the next week?" or "What is one of our best family memories that we should try again as a family this month?"

Bed Time

Pray that both you and your teen will be committed to work through any conflict (even if it takes some time) to make your relationship a priority.
