Paul provides us a rather significant warning in Colossians and Ephesians.

Colossians 2:8

“See to it that there is no one who takes you captive through philosophy and empty deception in accordance with human tradition, in accordance with the elementary principles of the world, rather than in accordance with Christ.” (NASB 2020)

Ephesians 5:6–7

“See that no one deceives you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. Therefore do not become partners with them;” (NASB 2020)

The warning he provides is on the topic of deception. In these last days, the attempts to deceive believers as well as though who are not believers to follow anything other than Jesus Christ is running at full speed 24 hours per day seven days a week.

The Holy Spirit laid it on my heart this week to talk about how the enemy is using those who say they are Christians, and whether they are or not is not the point, what they are doing though is flat out deception. Not only are well intended people being deceived, but they are being roped into deceiving others on the behalf of the one who has enchanted them to begin with. Paul calls them evil.

2 Timothy 3:13–14

“But evil people and impostors will proceed from bad to worse, deceiving and being deceived. You, however, continue in the things you have learned and become convinced of, knowing from whom you have learned them,” (NASB 2020)

Jesus warns us that this is how things will be in the last days.

Matthew 24:4–5

“And Jesus answered and said to them, “See to it that no one misleads you. For many will come in My name, saying, ‘I am the Christ,’ and they will mislead many people.” (NASB 2020)

1 John 3:4–8

“Everyone who practices sin also practices lawlessness; and sin is lawlessness. You know that He appeared in order to take away sins; and in Him there is no sin. No one who remains in Him sins continually; no one who sins continually has seen Him or knows Him. Little children, make sure no one deceives you; the one who practices righteousness is righteous, just as He is righteous; the one who practices sin is of the devil; for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The Son of God appeared for this purpose, to destroy the works of the devil.” (NASB 2020)

Welcome to the last days and yes, there are indeed attempts being made to deceive you and me every day. Where is this showing up? Everywhere and unfortunately, it is specifically targeting Bible believing Christians teaching half-truth and misleading under the guise of recently recovered lost wisdom that only the author has been able to discern. That is Gnosticism.

It is also taking place with the full-scale marketing taking place by those who want your money in order to continue what it is they are doing. What they are doing isn't wrong, but how they are going about it and generating buzz is.

Last time, I told you about the alleged discovery of Noah's Ark at a location in Turkey and we discussed the various research elements taking place. But here is the problem, those doing the research, rather than do it the way all archaeology is normally done with rigor connected with disclosure of data to others in order to validate if what the discovery is, is true or not. They have instead opted to go to the press with the “100% Discovery” claim.

Right now, whatever evidence they have, it has not been fully evaluated yet and there has been no scientific peer review either. Instead, trust us, it is the Ark and here is our Go Fund Me page.

For example, we talked about the drogue stones idea as a potential pointer; but are they drogue stones for real. Ted Wright at Epic Archaeology.org posted this about the stones on Facebook this past week.

"These are NOT "anchor stones" or drogue anchors, they are Armenian "cross stones" - from the Armenian word խաչքար which means xač "cross" k'ar "stone." They are carved memorial stones which have inscriptions of crosses and/or rosettes that are well known from the medieval period of Armenian Christianity. They are found throughout this region of eastern Turkey and Armenia. They were erected primarily for the salvation of a soul of a living or deceased person, or a military victory. These (pictured) are located in a small Kurdish village at the base of Mt. Ararat (Agri Dag) in eastern Turkey. Because of their close proximity and appearance of a stone anchor, recall the story of Noah's ark which medieval Armenian Christians believed was located on Ararat (Agri Dag). The Jerusalem cross inscription and similar cross motifs were possibly carved in the 12th or 13th century. Nowhere in the text in Genesis does God give instructions to Noah to make anchors or anchor stones to attach to the ark (Genesis 6:9-22). (Wright 2026)

And now we see the difficulty being confronted. Are these actual drogue stones or locally sourced and carved memorial stones?

One group has taken those stones as evidence of the Ark, the other says they are evidence of memorials. Both may be right so we wait for additional evidence to confirm exactly what all of this truly is.

What bothers me is that there are some at Noah's Ark Scans, who have decided to go to a full marketing press and thus the story headlines we have seen. Also, it has been two weeks now, and we are still talking about this.

This level of marketing and announcement, intended to get a follower of Jesus excited and involved, is nothing more than deception. There will be those during the Great Tribulation who will intentionally announce things in order to try and draw out members of the Jewish remnant, who are in hiding, as well as Tribulation Saints. Jesus warned about this.

Matthew 24:23–26

"Then if anyone tells you, 'Look, here is the Messiah,' or 'There he is,' don't believe it. For false messiahs and false prophets will rise up and perform great signs and wonders so as to deceive, if possible, even God's chosen ones. See, I have warned you about this ahead of time. So if someone tells you, 'Look, the Messiah is out in the desert,' don't bother to go and look. Or, 'Look, he is hiding here,' don't believe it!" (NLT)

The job of being a Berean does not end in these last days. It just doesn't.

My concern, this has become the go to method of gaining attention and dredging up support among many who are on the fringes of the church and some who keep coming up with different theories and books and push the point until the money dries up, then they move on to another fantastical thing.

Anyone here still remember the hubbub over the four lunar eclipses in one year? How about the Berisheet Passover Prophecy? How about taking an actual Jewish Torah mandated thing and trying to making it applicable to a Gentile nation, that sold a lot of books too. I actually took the time to read both of those books. False prophecy and false teaching at its finest. Crafted to engage the most undiscerning of the flock in order to extract loyalty and followership from them.

Are the various authors saved? I cannot make a comment on that since they are pushing out false teaching.

One of them recently was attacked on an airline, horrible, terrible, demonically inspired. He turned it into another marketing opportunity.

2 Peter 2:1–3

“But false prophets also appeared among the people, just as there will also be false teachers among you, who will secretly introduce destructive heresies, even denying the Master who bought them, bringing swift destruction upon themselves. Many will follow their indecent behavior, and because of them the way of the truth will be maligned; and in their greed they will exploit you with false words; their judgment from long ago is not idle, and their destruction is not asleep.” (NASB 2020)

We know, based on what we have learned from the scriptures, that Jesus Christ is coming to take His church from this planet at any second in the Pre-Tribulation Rapture of the Church. After the church is gone, with the global conditions that will engender, there will be someone who will show up who has the answers to the problems around the globe. Somehow, they will be able to explain away the disappearance of over 1 billion people as well as every single baby and child globally under some unknown age. This same person will, at some point based on what is taking place geopolitically, sign a seven-year deal with Israel.

When that seven-year deal is signed, that is the start point of Daniel's 70th week, that is the beginning of the Tribulation. Satan and all of his fallen ones are cast out of heaven around the 3 ½ year point and it is at that time that this world leader changes becoming the Beast and the remnant goes into hiding per the instructions of Jesus in Matthew 24. Daniel, has it revealed to him by Gabriel how long that period is. First the last week.

Daniel 9:27

“And he shall make a strong covenant with many for one week, and for half of the week he shall put an end to sacrifice and offering. And on the wing of abominations shall come one who makes desolate, until the decreed end is poured out on the desolator.” (ESV)

Matthew 24:15–16

“So when you see the abomination of desolation spoken of by the prophet Daniel, standing in the holy place (let the reader understand), then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains.” (ESV)

Daniel 12:11–12

“And from the time that the regular burnt offering is taken away and the abomination that makes desolate is set up, there shall be 1,290 days. Blessed is he who waits and arrives at the 1,335 days.” (ESV)

All of this is to lead up to another item of deception that is now taking place to draw more followers of Jesus Christ away into the same line of thought the other two false teachers were pointing too, a Jewish only interpretation of events. The author of the book dealing with the four lunar eclipses is part of a movement called Hebrew Roots. This is not the Noahide Movement that will be in Israel in November.

The Got Questions Ministry answered this question. “The premise of the Hebrew Roots movement is the belief that the Church has veered far from the true teachings and Hebrew concepts of the Bible. The movement maintains that Christianity has been indoctrinated with the culture and beliefs of Greek and Roman philosophy and that ultimately biblical Christianity, taught in churches today, has been corrupted with a pagan imitation of the New Testament gospels.

Those of the Hebrew Roots belief hold to the teaching that Christ's death on the cross did not end the Mosaic Covenant, but instead renewed it, expanded its message, and wrote it on the hearts of His true followers. They teach that the understanding of the New Testament can only come from a Hebrew perspective and that the teachings of the Apostle Paul are not understood clearly or taught correctly by Christian pastors today. Many affirm the existence of an original Hebrew-language New Testament and, in some cases, denigrate the existing New Testament text written in Greek. This becomes a subtle attack on the reliability of the text of our Bible. If the Greek text is unreliable and has been corrupted, as is charged by some, the Church no longer has a standard of truth.” (Got Questions Ministries 2002-2013)

I do not want to go too deep into what they teach. But for the most part, they reject all of the teachings of Paul, and since Luke and Acts were tied to Paul through Doctor Luke, they are not too jazzed about them either. Their teachings are essentially the same as the Judaizers that Paul rebuked in Galatians.

There are those who are associated with this movement who have produced a slick series of videos called Messiah 2030. Avoid them like the plague.

At the very beginning there is an inference that this has been hidden in God’s word, just as the Beresith Prophecy inferred.

We see the phrase “crack the code” more than once and the bottom line is simple, per their research, the second coming of Jesus Christ is to be in 2030 and the Abomination of Desolation is sometime next year (slide 65) probably in April. (Messiah2030.com 2025)

More specifically, in their third video, they state the second coming of Jesus Christ will be between September 27 and 30 of the year 2030 to coincide with the Feast of Trumpets. (Messiah2030.com 2025)

Yes, they are indeed setting a date for the second coming, apparently, we are in the Tribulation right now.

What we have is a full scale well engineered video production, website, and books on Amazon too, which are designed to tickle the ear of the average Christian.

The common thread of deception that we see today is this, the Bible is used and, in many cases, interpreted eisegetically with new meanings being read into it. Another common thread is this is purported to be new information either based on their breaking the code or special revelation to them from the Holy Spirit.

My problem, for thousands of years, we have just not been able to see what it is they have finally seen because they alone came up with the unique way of interpreting what it is they are seeing. Yes, another manifestation of Gnosticism but more troubling to me, this is being done to deceive.

For all of us as followers of Jesus Christ, the reality is this. All of us have the Holy Spirit living inside of us forever. Jesus specifically told us what the Holy Spirit would do for us.

John 14:26

“But the Helper, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things and bring to your remembrance all that I have said to you.” (ESV)

I have difficulty thinking that the Holy Spirit, ever since Pentecost, the same one who Jesus says teaches us all things, has been holding out on us until someone with special knowledge can interpret His word to us correctly for us to understand prophecy.

There is also this promise too, from Jesus as well.

John 16:13–15

“When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth, for he will not speak on his own authority, but whatever he hears he will speak, and he will declare to you the things that are to come. He will glorify me, for he will take what is mine and declare it to you. All that the Father has is mine; therefore I said that he will take what is mine and declare it to you.” (ESV)

There is no way that our loving Lord, who has given us the Holy Spirit and promised that He would teach us everything to include future things, has held out on us certain things until the right person can interpret it for us.

You see, this is where many followers of Jesus are now getting sucked in. Most Christians have been so poorly trained in their churches about the word, that they do not realize they have all the tools necessary to determine what the Bible says and teaches, even on last things.

We all want to hear more about prophecy, and we all want to know more about when Jesus Christ will return for His church as well in the second coming. But when you throw out huge sections of the scriptures because you do not agree with them, you have difficulty coming up with a cogent Biblically based worldview much less sound doctrine.

But those two things are enough for the enemy to use those who are willing to listen to him to come up with books, videos, teaching tools, decoding tools and more, as long as it keeps you out of God's word for real.

Satan wants to lock us in on a teacher. The Holy Spirit wants to lock you in on Jesus, not the latest teacher, the latest hot take on prophecy, but Jesus. We must be Bereans. Discernment is required and the folks who told me about this "teaching" were exercising that when they contacted me. Thank you. Paul said this about the Jews in Berea.

Acts 17:11

"Now these Jews were more noble than those in Thessalonica; they received the word with all eagerness, examining the Scriptures daily to see if these things were so." (ESV)

For us today, there are two ways to approach studying the Bible.

The first approach is one that many take today because it is a path that false teachers encourage and applaud. Unlike the Middle Ages where most were illiterate, and the intent was to control folks by making them think you literally could control their eternal destinations, people today, for the most part can read and although there are still some who do believe that men can control their eternal destination, most no longer would agree with that idea. Instead, a false teacher will try to create the impression in you that they are truly the only ones who are capable of opening up the Bible to you.

They will advertise they have been to school, they have had the special training, they have received a "special" anointing of the Holy Spirit and only they can reveal the "true" intent of the scriptures. In other words, there is no need for you to look this up on your own since "I" have the specialized teaching and training to tell you what it means, you simply don't know this or how to do this.

If you have ever heard anyone, say that or act like they are the repository of all wisdom and knowledge of the Bible, run, do not walk away.

Religion wants you to not look things up on your own.

Religion will feed you just enough truth to get you to buy what they are saying, establish some trust and then fall asleep. It is then they roll out the big ones, the lie here and the lie there. The goal of religion is to intentionally mislead you, take your loyalty, take your money, take your peace and then take you to hell. Again, as followers of Jesus Christ, the Holy Spirit is inside of each of us. He is way more adequate to teach us than any false teacher. I lean on Him to help me teach you and continually ask that He teaches through me. Let's pray.
