

Trusting God in Hard Times

God will give me strength and help me when I suffer.

At the end of Job's suffering, God blessed him with more than he had before. To the right of Job, redraw everything you see to the left of him.

I will pray and trust God when I am suffering.

"God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will not we fear" (Psalm 46:1-2).

The Story of Job

Job loved God and knew God's blessings. Job had a large family, money, sheep, camels, oxen, and donkeys. He was one of the greatest men who lived in his country. Every day Job prayed, "Lord, You are God. I worship You."

Satan hated Job because he was a godly man. One day the Lord said to Satan, "Have you seen my servant Job? There is no one else who respects me like Job."

Satan replied, "He only loves You because of the blessings. If all his blessings were taken, he would curse You."

The Lord wanted to show Job's godly actions, even when he faced suffering. God allowed Satan to destroy Job's sheep, camels, oxen, donkeys, and even his family. But Job did not curse God. Instead, he worshiped.

Again, the Lord asked Satan, "Have you seen my servant Job? Even in his suffering, he respects and worships Me."

Satan replied, "He will curse You if he gets sick."

The Lord wanted to show that Job trusted God. He allowed Satan to send sickness to Job. As Job suffered, he prayed and trusted God. Even when his wife and his friends told him to quit, Job continued to serve and worship God.

After all the suffering, the Lord blessed Job. His body was healed. He had more children. He received twice as much money, sheep, camels, oxen, and donkeys. Job trusted God during the hard times, and he was blessed.
