

GENESIS 3

PASTOR JOSH ROLLINS

MARCH 8, 2026

THE OBSERVATION

Something is _____ with _____.

THE CONFESSION

Something is _____ with _____.

THE REALITY

_____ costs _____.

THE TEXT

Sin _____ God's _____. (3:1-5)

Sin _____ God's _____. (3:6)

Sin _____ God's _____. (3:7-24)

THE HOPE

_____ paid _____.

THE RESPONSE

_____ to _____.

additional notes:

GENESIS 3

PASTOR JOSH ROLLINS

MARCH 8, 2026

THE OBSERVATION

Something is _____ with _____.

THE CONFESSION

Something is _____ with _____.

THE REALITY

_____ costs _____.

THE TEXT

Sin _____ God's _____. (3:1-5)

Sin _____ God's _____. (3:6)

Sin _____ God's _____. (3:7-24)

THE HOPE

_____ paid _____.

THE RESPONSE

_____ to _____.

additional notes:

We began with the observation that something is wrong with the world and something is wrong with us too.

Where do you most clearly see the effects of sin—both around you and within you? How does Genesis 3 help explain the brokenness we experience today?

In the garden, sin began when the serpent caused Adam and Eve to doubt God's Word and question His goodness.

Where are you most tempted to doubt God's truth or believe that your way will lead to greater life than obedience to Him?

After they sinned, Adam and Eve hid in shame. In what ways do you find yourself hiding—from God, from others, or even from the truth about your own heart? How does the gospel invite you to step out of hiding?

Adam and Eve hid behind a tree in shame, but Jesus hung on a tree to bear our shame and pay the cost of our sin.

How does seeing Jesus take your place on the cross reshape the way you view your guilt, your past, and your standing before God?

Through Jesus, those who were once enemies of God are adopted as sons and daughters.

How does knowing you are welcomed into God's family change the way you approach Him in repentance, prayer, and daily life?

We began with the observation that something is wrong with the world and something is wrong with us too.

Where do you most clearly see the effects of sin—both around you and within you? How does Genesis 3 help explain the brokenness we experience today?

In the garden, sin began when the serpent caused Adam and Eve to doubt God's Word and question His goodness.

Where are you most tempted to doubt God's truth or believe that your way will lead to greater life than obedience to Him?

After they sinned, Adam and Eve hid in shame. In what ways do you find yourself hiding—from God, from others, or even from the truth about your own heart? How does the gospel invite you to step out of hiding?

Adam and Eve hid behind a tree in shame, but Jesus hung on a tree to bear our shame and pay the cost of our sin.

How does seeing Jesus take your place on the cross reshape the way you view your guilt, your past, and your standing before God?

Through Jesus, those who were once enemies of God are adopted as sons and daughters.

How does knowing you are welcomed into God's family change the way you approach Him in repentance, prayer, and daily life?