Right Doctrine, Right Life: Public Faith

Titus 3:1-7 October 4th, 2026

Big Idea: _____ faith should shape _____ life.

_____ those _____ us; do _____ for those _____ us. (v. 1)

Replace _____ and _____ with _____ and _____. (v. 2)

Our _____ past should _____ our _____ for sinners. (v. 3)

Our _____ didn't save us; His _____ did. (vv. 4–7)

Right Doctrine, Right Life: Public Faith

Titus 3:1-7 October 4th, 2026

Big Idea: _____ faith should shape _____ life.

_____ those _____ us; do _____ for those _____ us. (v. 1)

Replace _____ and _____ with _____ and _____. (v. 2)

Our _____ past should _____ our _____ for sinners. (v. 3)

Our _____ didn't save us; His _____ did. (vv. 4–7)

Right Doctrine, Right Life | Discussion Guide

Where is your faith most visible outside the church, and where is it hardest to see? What would living out your faith look like in that setting this week?

Why is submitting to authority difficult, especially when you disagree? How can you show respect and obedience while keeping your allegiance to God first?

When are you most tempted to slander someone or become quarrelsome? What would gentleness and courtesy look like in those conversations?

Which people do you find easier to judge than to love? How should remembering your own sin and God's mercy change the way you treat them?

Titus 3:4–7 says God saved us through His mercy and the Spirit's renewing work. How does this challenge our sense of superiority, and how should it shape the way we serve people who don't know Christ?

WANT TO DISCUSS THIS MESSAGE WITH OTHERS?
Join a Life Group – pataskalagrace.org/life-groups

Right Doctrine, Right Life | Discussion Guide

Where is your faith most visible outside the church, and where is it hardest to see? What would living out your faith look like in that setting this week?

Why is submitting to authority difficult, especially when you disagree? How can you show respect and obedience while keeping your allegiance to God first?

When are you most tempted to slander someone or become quarrelsome? What would gentleness and courtesy look like in those conversations?

Which people do you find easier to judge than to love? How should remembering your own sin and God's mercy change the way you treat them?

Titus 3:4–7 says God saved us through His mercy and the Spirit's renewing work. How does this challenge our sense of superiority, and how should it shape the way we serve people who don't know Christ?

WANT TO DISCUSS THIS MESSAGE WITH OTHERS?
Join a Life Group – pataskalagrace.org/life-groups