Sometimes we are lost in a _____ world.

God's people were lost in a _____ world.

God's people were:

- _____
- _____
- _____

But _____

Three Reasons Jesus Is Messiah:

1. Jesus is _____
2. Jesus is _____
3. Jesus is _____

The Messiah is _____

BIG IDEA: Jesus became man to be the _____ of

_____.

Jesus chose to _____ the _____ for us before
He _____ the _____.

Application: Daily confront your one “acorn” by singing
“He’s Got the Whole World in His Hands”

WORD MADE FLESH | Discussion Guide

When you look at the world around you—or your own life—where do you most feel the weight of uncertainty, instability, or discouragement? How do those moments tend to shape your expectations of leadership, authority, or control?

Luke describes a King whose arrival looked very different from what people expected. What kinds of power or success do people usually look for in a leader today, and how does Jesus challenge those assumptions? Why do you think God chose this particular way to introduce His promised ruler?

Jesus is described as ruling forever, yet His first act of authority was not taking power but embracing suffering. How does that reshape the way you understand strength and leadership? Where do you find it hardest to trust a leader who leads this way?

Everyone lives under some kind of “rule,” whether it’s fear, ambition, approval, or comfort. What competes most for influence over your decisions right now? What would it look like to intentionally place that area under Jesus’ leadership?

Childlike trust often comes more easily in song than in practice. What simple, daily reminder could help you release control and remember who truly reigns? How could your group help one another keep that posture throughout the week?
